Former May Protest at Convention--Twelve Democratic Delegates Named.

With thirteen names on the ballot and thirteen candidates to be elected, the ticket for the District delegation to the Democratic national convention in St. Louis last night announced "victory" at vesterday's primary. The victory was vesterday's primary. The victory was sweeping—in fact, the ticket was unanimously elected.

It could not have been otherwise, according to a statement from Democrats who opposed the regulars. The only opposition was to the candidacy of John F. Costello for national committeeman. The name of William McK. Clayton had been rejected by the committee governing the rejected by the committee governing the primary. Clayton's friends, though his name was not on the ballot, tried fre-quent scratches. All were thrown out.

Claim 3,000 Voted. The central committee claimed between 2,000 and 4,000 "votes" were cast. The Clayton opposition placed the number a slightly more than 700. Their figures will be supported by affidavit, signed by the be supported by affidavit, signed by the several watchers they had at each of the olls, it was said.

It was considered likely in the camp f the opposition last night that layton's friends would send him to t. Louis to protest the selection of ostello for national committeeman rom the District.

The delegates "elected" yesterday esterday were District Commissioner yesterday were District Commissioner Louis Brownlow. John B. Colpoys, Walter J. Costello, Charles W. Darr. Charles A. Douglas, James S. Easby-Smith, George H. Emmons, Jr., George Killeen, Robert E. Mattingly, E. Southard Parker, Thomas H. Pickford and Tucker K. Sands.

The delegates "chosen" at the primary announced two local "planks" in the platform it will carry to St. Louis, namely, suffrage for the District and a protest against the repeal of the half-and-half.

the school board in its attitude toward the public forums to a mother-in-law in a newly married family, Miss Margaret Wilson, the daughter of the President, opened the social evening of the Grover Cleveland Community Forum at the Grover Cleveland School last night. She stated that when the family understood itself better there would no doubt be perfect harmony.

Representative Sisson, of the District Appropriations Committee, stated that he did believe people should be permitted to say what they wanted to say, and if in so doing they broke the law they should be prosecuted.

Other speakers were Representative Raker, of California; Justice Siddons, of the District Supreme Court, and Corporation Counsel Conrad Syme.
